

Ghana Center for Democratic Development (CDD-Ghana)

Call for Applications: Training of Investigative Journalists

The Ghana Center for Democratic Development (CDD-Ghana), through its flagship anti-corruption initiative, Corruption Watch (CW) is inviting applications for a two-day intensive training program for investigative journalists. This initiative forms part of CW's broader efforts to support the media's watchdog role and advance reforms in accountability, transparency, and the rule of law in Ghana.

An applicant must;

- Be a mid-career practicing journalist;
- Be affiliated with a recognized media organization or operate as a freelance journalist;
- Demonstrate knowledge of /interest in investigative journalism, supported by at least two published investigative stories
- Provide details of two professional references;
- Attach a curriculum vitae to the application

Please apply here >> <https://bit.ly/4Is7Pk>